Town Meeting continues Saturday School budget approved Shawsheen Tech cut Site One nixed

Wilmington's Town Meeting will resume Saturday at 1:30 pm with a few yet controversial items yet to be discussed.

Last Saturday the town meeting bogged down on a discussion of Site One and the public dump. The article proposing Site One finally was defeated, after a long and many-sided debate.

The dump fight was precipitated by Mrs Madeline McKie during the discussion of the budget, when she attempted to transfer some of the Free Cash. Up until that time things had been going very smoothly.

The School Budget was sustained, after a gentlemanly debate involving Mike Bucznski of Marcia Road and the School Committee chairman, John Brooks. Mr. Bucznski had moved to cut the budget by $1,000, in a test move. Mr. Brooks agreed that most certainly some change should be made in the laws, after which Bucznski withdrew his motion.

Shawsheen Technical High

School, on the other hand, and $80,000 cut from its budget by the Wilmington voters, on recommendation of the Finance Committee. The Wilmington action is likely to be repeated in the other four towns of the Shawsheen District, in what may become a test case.

There were 459 voters present in the afternoon session, and 352 in the evening session, which lasted until 12:12 am.

Chamber of Commerce seeks bridge answers

The closing of the railroad bridge over the Boston & Maine RR at Lake Street some months ago has produced problems in circulation that should be solved, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce has decided.

A resolution passed in the last Director's meeting says that there is a problem in that people are not now able to get from one part of town to another. There is also a problem in business losses, for local merchants. In some cases these losses are extreme, the Chamber found.

A letter is to be sent to the Wilmington Selectmen, asking that the problem receive the consideration of that board. Ten businesses are being affected, the Chamber says.

Elected secretary

Mark D. O'Hearne of 17 Chapman Ave., Wilmington has been elected secretary of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity at Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. O'Hearne and is majoring in his sophomore year of chemical engineering. He is a graduate of Wilmington High School.

So - Ten inches!

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES: In the South School, Tuesday evening, awaiting the results of the balloting by Wilmington Youth Hockey.

From left: Jay Tighe, Frank Newark, Don MacDonald and Wes Brown. Mr. Brown, who lives on Longview Road, was elected.

St. Patrick's Day, in Wilmington, dawned with a fresh ten inches of snow on the ground. There were no schools, and the traffic lines in Wilmington Square, on Main Street and Church Street were nearly half a mile long.

The night before the Town Hall had closed half an hour early, because of the storm, and committee and organizational meetings all over were cancelled, because of the storm. It was a real Northeaster.

Did everyone stay home? No quite. Down in the old South School, on Chestnut Street was the annual meeting of Wilmington Youth Hockey. President James Kidd went down, in case any of the members did show up.

There were over 100. The old school house was packed. Cars were parked up and down Chestnut Street, and along Butters Row. At stake was the question: Who is going to be the next president?

SHAWSHEEN TECH: Officials at the Town Meeting. Nearest the camera is Benjamin Volk, Superintendent. Next is John Murphy, school committee chairman, and then Robert Brooks, Business Manager.

Thank you

For the generous support given to us in the recent Youth Hockey campaign and election.

The turnout on such a stormy night was a credit to everyone, and shows the interest that can be aroused in such a community affair.

Let us now work together to make our club the finest in the state as we know it can be.

TOWN OF WILMINGTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS

It has come to our attention that people are soliciting the businesses of the Town of Wilmington for advertisements or book covers and calendars. The salesperson is saying that these book covers and calendars will be given out in the public schools.

In accordance with past practice the Wilmington School Committee will prohibit the distribution of such items in the public schools. These solicitors are neither sponsored, nor endorsed, by any school organization.

Full time dog officer for Wilmington?

Wilmington's dog officer has been criticized in past town meetings because of dog problems in some neighborhoods. The answer has always been that he is part-time, but that he immediately responds to calls. A full time man is needed, he says, to keep up with the local bow-wows.

In the budget of this year's town meeting M. Balestrieri asked that his job be made full time. The voters turned him down.

He asked that the item be reconsidered, and it is on the slate for next Saturday's town meeting.

READING

ALICE DOUCETTE, RN: The lady who served the town so well as Town Nurse, and now has been retired for many years, is well past ninety summers. She was visited, recently, at her home by Selectman Danny Gillis, who found her to be remarkably well. Her only difficulty is with her reading.

Danny presented a citation from the Town, and Alice recently wrote a very nice letter of thanks to the Wilmington Selectmen, in acknowledgement.

A straight arrow for Jimmy Durkee

Site One, for a town dump, is now a dead issue, as far as this Town Meeting is concerned. It cannot again be discussed in Town Meeting until there is another Warrant, for another Town Meeting.

Selectman Boylen spoke up, just before the final vote Saturday to warn that if the motion lost it would be dead. His words fell on deaf ears. From the viewpoint of those who were supporting the idea of Site One it is too bad that no one would listen to Boylen.

Another man whose words may not have been understood was Jimmy Durkee, chairman of the Board of Health. Mr. Durkee discussed the dump situation quite candidly, from his own personal point of view.

What he did was to examine the past history of the dump, at its present location. The fault for the dump being as it was, he said, was that over the years the Wilmington Board of Health had been bargaining too sharply with the owner. If the Board of Health had not tried to save money for the town it was possible, according to Durkee's reasoning, that the dump might be in good order, at this time.

Mr. Durkee deserves a Straight Arrow, for his candor. He is a man who has always served honestly and well.

What to do?

The Town Meeting now has two paths open to it, - or possibly three. Site No. 2 is on town owned land, up near the "Lost Colony." For a number of reasons there is doubt about using this site for a dump, although North Reading does have a dumping transfer station only about 100 yards away.

It is to be doubted that North Reading will be happy about Wilmington using North Reading roads to get to the Wilmington Dump. Using a road through private property is the only alternative, and there are good reasons why this should not be considered.

Wilmington possibly could set up a Transfer Station at Site One. This column does not know whether or not that would be good. There were several reasons cited during the Town Meeting against such an idea. One firm, about which letters were written, sounds good, perhaps, but the firm is reported to be near bankruptcy.

The difficulty is that costs cannot be guaranteed, nor can the performance of contracts. Possibly the Transfer Station idea is good. Possibly it isn't.

The third route involves using the present dump. This sounds perhaps abhorrent, but it should be examined.

The cost to the town is in the neighborhood of $60,000 a year, which is darn little when one considers that a cemetery costs $100 a year. Other dumps in the area have been costing their towns about $150 thousand a year. In other words, Wilmington has been having a bargain, as Jimmy Durkee said.

Say it costs $50 thousand to fix up the present dump - the estimate is $30,000. That, to this column is cheap.

After that contract that would be under $150 thousand a year would be saving the town money - if for a few years contract, until the situation has cleared, in Eastern Massachusetts, about collective action on the trash problem.

Condemn who?

The town is on the spot. There is no contract with the owner of the dump. If the state should close it tomorrow, as well it might, it would be the town that will suddenly have to pay the consequences, and the town could not go to the owner and demand a performance of any kind.

It is that simple.

The Town Manager and the Selectmen are probably frantically searching for answers.

There was no difference of opinion among the selectmen, at the end of the Town Meeting, early Sunday morning. Collectively they looked at each other, and said they would have to produce an answer. They were smiling.

No one knows what the answer will be. The town, at least, can listen to it, next Saturday.

The Dog Bylaw

There are those who regard Article 21 as one that will be controversial in the Town Meeting.

As far as this column is concerned, it is an article that is well intentioned, but not so well written. It should be positive in its approach - as for instance saying that dog kennels can be allowed in Wilmington, in rural zones.

But the Planning Board does not want this article voted, for a very good reason. There is an unknown factor, in the new state zoning code, that the Planning Board does not want to invoke, at this time.

The town would do well to follow the Planning Board's recommendations. Then, come back later with positive, rather than negative ideas.

Certified Peat

Article 27 is another at which the voter may want to cast a critical eye. It proposes to buy swampland, westerly of Wildwood Street, and the voter is told that half the money will come from the state.

Maybe, and maybe not. The state is not paying money for peat.

That area is not land. It is water, and peat. Twenty-four feet of peat was the soundings taken nearby, not too long ago.

No one can build there, by any flight of the imagination. The only purpose of that property is for the support of wild duck, and it lends itself admirably to that purpose.

Why pay for it? In a few years whoever the owner is will be tired of paying the town, and will stop paying taxes. Then the town gets the land (?) at no cost to itself - or the Commonwealth.

Just stand on the bridge at Wildwood Street, and look upstream. Then imagine yourself paying good money for what you see.

Health officials act to bar outside trash

The Tewksbury health department has taken steps which may result in heavy fines being levied against persons dumping out-of-town trash at Racco's Dump off South Street.

Health Director William McMenimen said the actions are being taken because of evidence dumping of out-of-town trash at the facility has escalated rapidly in recent months.

Tewksbury bylaws forbid the dumping of trash originating out of town, and the Racco facility is quickly being filled. No other dump operates in Tewksbury.

Health officials accompanied by a policeman have been assigned to halt and inspect trucks going to the dump from 7:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. weekdays. Unlike similar actions in the past, however, they are now threatening to bar the trucks from using town roads under a state law which includes heavy fines for violations.

McMenimen explained, "A state law requires that trucks bringing trash through a city or town must have a permit from that community's health board to use the town or city roads."

He continued, "Anyone who hasn't got such a permit from us is being told to leave town without going to the dump. If they leave the matter will be dropped right there, but if they refuse we tell them we will seek a court complaint against them for violating the law."

McMenimen said contractors who have a different type of license which allows them to leave trash originating in Tewksbury at the dump are being warned that if they are bringing in materials from outside they too will be barred from using town roads.

McMenimen said a number of trucks have still gone on to dump out-of-town trash at the facility.

He plans to take them to court as soon as Town Counsel Charles J. Zaroulis is ready to do so, he stressed.

When one of the truckers is taken to court and found guilty of violating the law, McMenimen suggests, the word will get around quickly to other truckers "and that should put a stop to things."

McMenimen admits the assignment to his staff to halt and inspect trucks is only a short-term affair, just as were past attempts to halt out-of-town dumping.

Fair celebrates Nation's 200th

There will be a Bicentennial Fair at the Shawshen School in Tewksbury Saturday, March 27, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Everyone is welcome to attend. Many arts and crafts items with a Bicentennial theme will be on sale: items children have been working on for some time. There will also be a table with hand made items from all members of the school personnel and Easter gifts.

There will be raffles, displays, cake sale, cook books and refreshments.

Teachers will be making silhouettes of those who would like to have them done.

Masons sponsor dinner Saturday

There will be a ham and bean supper sponsored by Wamesit Lodge A.F. & A.M., Wamesit Assembly of Rainbow for Girls, and Wamesit Chapter of DeMolay Saturday, March 20.

The event will be held at Tewksbury Congregational Church in Tewksbury center continuous from 5 to 7 p.m. The cost to adults is $2.50, to children $1.50 and children under six years old 75 cents.

This event will be held on the third Saturday of each month until and including June.

Building head has busy day

Tewksbury Building Inspector William Granfield had a busy day scheduled Thursday, March 18. He planned to take two legal actions concerning the selectmen's suspending him for five days last year.

Granfield was to appear in Supreme Judicial Court in Boston at 9 a.m. to seek another extension of his right to appeal the suspension in court.

He received a one month extension in February of his right to appeal because that right was scheduled to lapse six months after the August suspension.

The building inspector was scheduled to appear at a Civil Service Commission hearing in Boston only a half hour after the court appearance. That was to deal with whether the selectmen had the proper grounds to suspend him in the first place.

Before the hearings Granfield said he wanted to be covered on both fronts. He is considering a court action which would deal with both the suspension and his bid to regain $1,500 he claims the town owes him in legal fees.

The latter sum involves his defending himself against building inspector replaced by Granfield who is attempting to unseat Granfield and gain $30,000 in back pay for the time Granfield has replaced him.

Jets cruise by Moon Units

Jets, 6-Moon Units, 2
Jim Cushing, (two goals, two assists) and Ron Kelley (two goals, one assist) gave the Jets all the offensive power needed to get past the pesky Moon Units.

Brian Harvey and Mark Peters of the Jets, Roy Meyer and Al Swan of the Moon Units contributed single goals.

Beavers, 5-Blues, 4
It was beat the clock again for the Beavers as Doug Fish deflected in a Don Anderson shot with :01 second remaining in a short-handed situation to turn back the upset-minded Blues.

Dave York's third goal of the night had tied the score in the third period while Tim Keefe had scored a pair to give the Blues a two goal lead after two periods. Roy Anderson bested hard-luck netminder Lee Black.

Knights, 9-Big W, 6
In a wild west shoot out, the Knights handed in five third period goals to top the Big W. Two goal scorers included the Knights' John Davis and Mark Spiller while Mike Esposito and Peter Pellerin did likewise for the Big W.

Moon Units, 6-Big W, 2
The Moon Units continued their late season surge, this time at the expense of the Big W as Bill

Kelley's hat trick and the clutch goal tending of Tony Vieira combined to propel the Units by the Big W.

Al Swan, Bing Reitchel, and Ken Coff had solo markers for the Units while John Curran and Ed Hill scored for the Big W.

Jets, 6-Beavers, 4
The Jets moved back into the top spot in the league standings as Brian Harvey's hat trick (two unassisted goals) performance spearheaded the IG WIN. Individual scores were turned in by Butch Everett (J), Ron Kelley (J), Jim Ray (J), Charlie Miller (B), Dave York (B), and Merrill MacInnis (B).

Knights, 4-Blues, 3
After spotting the Blues three first period tallies, the Knights came back with two goals in the second and third periods, with Greg Holden firing home the game winner with eight minutes remaining, to overtake the Blues and hand them their second consecutive one-goal loss.

Mike Griffin (B) was the only dual scorer while in addition to Holden, single scorers were Ed Sobocinski (B), John Davis (K), Fred Medouano (K), and Ed Dunlea (K). Leo O'Connell bested Lee Black in the nets.

Standings

Jets	11-4-4-26

SPORTS

Question - what is high school basketball all about?

by Rick Cooke

A recent Boston Globe sports page headline read: "Catholic Memorial vs Don Bosco - What High School Basketball is all about."

It was a great high school basketball game, that cannot be denied. It was a minor upset - that is obvious Bosco came away with a win as Memorial's star guard Ronnie Perry failed to ignite the patented CM rally. Bosco had won in a great game and the reporter rejoiced. I think he went overboard in proclaiming that this game was what "high school basketball is all about."

High School sports is not two great teams going at it. Memorial and Bosco happened to be large schools with good sized student bodies. Naturally the bigger the enrollment the more of an opportunity a coach has to find the top athletes - smaller schools do not have such a crowd to pick and choose from.

High School sports is not just one great game. It is not simply winning. Competition is the most important word to be applied to high school sports. Intramural and varsity sports exist for the purpose of good clean competition. High school sports is not CM and Bosco. It is a 10 man team from a small school taking the court and giving that effort because they love to compete. It is the girls intramurals teams playing for the sheer fun involved in the activity. It is the long distance runner working out on a cold, rainy fall day because he wants to prove something to himself.

The Globe reporter overlooks all of the kids playing basketball who might not be as talented as the kids he saw perform, but who are giving the same effort under less fortunate circumstances.

High school basketball, or any high school sport for that matter, should not be symbolized by two powerful schools who were lucky enough to get full coverage from a Boston paper. Many smaller schools with good sports talent will never get more than a paragraph in a major daily newspaper, but the kids are out there working hard and having fun.

I have to wonder what these kids think when they read that Memorial and Bosco are "what high school basketball is all about." They may think that the bigger schools deserve such ink. They may also feel a sense of frustration in wondering why their talents aren't recognized simply because not enough readers are interested. The reporter put all his basketball eggs into the lucrative baskets of two high school sports powers. There are other people playing high school sports.

$750,000 yearly for the Wilmington Brass

Managing personnel, including directors and superintendents, in the Wilmington town government and the Wilmington public schools will receive over $750,000 in pay during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1976. The figures are those voted in the recent town meeting and from a joint meeting of School Committees held two weeks ago.

In some instances it is possible that the final figures have not been voted, by the selectmen or the school committee. In other instances no figures are shown, for some directors, because of the lack of recent information.

LETTER

Dear Larz:

Lost strayed or stolen...from the town meeting March 13, 1976 many, many hundreds of uninterested taxpayers, who do not seem to care how their tax money is spent. Let the other guy to it, but you help to pay the bills.

Can you afford it? Many people are unemployed, many are retired on fixed incomes, and cannot stretch their retirement dollars as far as you can. Remember if you don't like the 1976 tax rate, don't yell at the good citizens who turned out from 1:30 p.m. until midnight. Don't yell at the selectmen; they try, and don't yell about the finance committee, they too have hours of hard labor put in solely for the taxpayers' benefit.

There are many items yet to discuss, the one of utmost importance is the dump problem and it just won't go away, no matter how hard you may wish it would. It is going to cost an awful lot of money that is going right on the tax bills.

Logic, good sound common sense, and a lot of financial thinking on the part of the ones who are going to foot the bills. Do some very deep down thinking this week. Come back next Saturday at 1:30 p.m. and put your shoulder to the wheel and let's get something down to earth accomplished, that will take care of the trash at the price you can afford...

Don't look for anything under $135,000, unless the trunk of your car can carry a good load for the next year or so. There are no miracles, we all have trash it's what do you want to do with it at what price that counts!

We can all have hindsight and ask why the contract now in existence wasn't lived up to, why wasn't there a penalty clause and then go one step further if the contract wasn't lived up to why was the bill paid? Once it was paid there is no refund.

A lot of the problems come from the lack of interest on the part of the taxpayer who just doesn't think it worth while to attend meetings. We have enough good solid citizens in this town who have the know-how to get things done who just stay at home and let the other guy do it and then gripe like hell when their tax bill goes up.

Your moderator was certainly not to be envied at Saturday's meeting. I'm just delighted it was he and not I who was presiding.

His patience and sense of humor were marvelous. He certainly warned you, the selectmen and the finance committee warned you to do some real good thinking, and I hope after one week, what they were saying will make sense to all of you who will take the time and trouble to be at the meeting next Saturday.

There are still a lot of legislation to be covered. Let us all get down to earth and show up and do our share.

Sincerely,
 Anastasia MacInnis

Wilmington youth hockey highlights

Pee Wee A

On March 10, in the second-week of playoffs at Wilmington, Chelmsford lost a 1-0 game to the A's. In spite of a 24-10 shot advantage, Wilmington remained scoreless until the third period. Walter Surrrette rang an eight foot backhand off the crossbar that just did miss going in.

Frank Devita and Keith Ford worked a give and go on a rush out of their zone up the left boards with Keith faking a defenseman, pulling the goalie and scoring on a backhand at 6:50 of the last period.

Stretch Storer held the fort after that and picked up his 14th shutout.

On March 14, Westford was the opponent at Tyngsboro that saw Stretch Storer pick up his 15th shutout in a 6-0 win. First period had scores by Keith Ford from Mark LaLiberte, followed by David Kidd from Walter Surrrette. One score in period two, LaLiberte from Mike Stokes. Third period action saw three goals ice the game. Mark Boudreau from Kidd; Rick Zambenardi's shot handed goal from Ford followed by Ford's second of the day, once again from LaLiberte.

The team had 45 shots on Westford. Next Wilmington game is Wed. March 24 at 5:40 vs. Columbia.

Pee Wee B's

Wilmington Pee Wee B's bow out of state division II playoffs in semi final round robin last weekend in Natick.

Playing three games in 26 hours, the Pee Wees lost to Springfield 4-0, defeated Weymouth 8-2 and lost to Burlington 4-1.

Friday evening Springfield's team dominated the Wilmington squad forcing many three on twos, two on ones and lone breakaways. Goal tenders Bill Redler and Jeff Lux had a long evening.

Saturday morning with Weymouth providing the competition, the Wilmington boys put on an offensive show. Bill Robinson notched the first goal after Chuck McNeil deflected a breakout pass into the corner with George Boudreau digging the puck out to McNeil with a short pass to Robinson who put home a backhander.

With 47 seconds remaining in the first period Darryl MacDonald beat the goaltender cruising in the slot as George Boudreau and Chuck McNeil again provided the setup passes.

The winning goal was scored by Frank Newark in the second period on a fade off in the Weymouth end. Newark drew the puck to Ted Moran who fed Bill Robinson for a slap shot Frank Newark tipped in.

Ted Moran excited the crowd with an unassisted tally on a slap shot from the blue line for Wilmington's fourth goal. Chuck McNeil beat the Weymouth centerman on a fade off providing Bill Robinson a slap shot goal from the point. The Weymouth goaltender was screened by George Boudreau who danced out of the way to make the score 4-2. Chuck McNeil and George Boudreau provided Darryl MacDonald the next goal as Darryl flipped home a rebound to close the second period scoring.

Jeff Stouffer opened the third period stuffing home a Jim Conti rebound. The last goal was an unassisted effort by John Cushing who's second attempt to pass out from behind the net deflected off the goaltender and bounded into the net.

The second game of the day was to provide the finalist for this slate tournament with Burlington the opponent.

Wilmington jumped into the lead with a goal at 2:45 of the first period. John Cushing scored with Frank Newark and Mike Moran assisting.

From then on Burlington scored four unanswered tallies eliminating Coach Don MacDonald's boys from the competition.

Traveling to Tyngsboro Sunday in the Interstate League the Pee Wees trounced Tyngsboro-Dunstable 8-3. Bob Magliozzi, having his finest day as a Pee Wee popped in four goals. Scoring the first goals of the game and the last two with assists to George Boudreau, Mike Moran and Ted Moran.

Sandwiched in between were unassisted tallies by Jim Conti and Ted Moran with Chuck McNeil scooping in a Bob Williams pass and Chuck McNeil providing the set up for Darryl MacDonald's goal.

Ron Greenberg, although not involved in the statistics for the four weekend games, provided many poke checks to break up the opposition and several slap shots that didn't result in a score.

Blazers-Blades

The Blazers continued their impressive play with a 3-2 victory over the Blades.

Blazer goals were scored by Billy Tucci assisted by Dante DeMarco; Dave Marranzini assisted by Billy Tucci and Dave Michaud and Dante DeMarco assisted by Scott Fuller.

A strong defensive performance was turned in by defenseman John Meeker and goaltender Tom Bachand.

Intramural squirts

Saturday evening the Americans won over the Aces 6-2. John Blaisdell of the American team had a hat trick with the following boys assisting, Bill Barrett, Robbie Randberg and Alan Sommerberg. Jay Barrett scored twice, once assisted by Darren Colaresse and once by Steve DeMarco. Peter Gentile scored the remaining goal with the assistance of Frank DeFelice and Steve McEvoy. In net was Larry Berrigan, who did a fine job.

The first Ace goal came from the stick of Lemmy Howard, unassisted and John Wiberg scored the other goal with the assistance of Tim Necci and Rick Finlay.

Peter Chase played a good defensive game and Don Gunn was very good as goal tender.

In the other squirt game, the Braves and Bears played to a 4-1 finish. Brave goal number one came from Steve Raso assisted by Dean Athanasia, goal two was by Charlie Athanasia with the assistance of Jeff Marshall, number three was by Jay Hanafin assisted by Dean Athanasia and goal four came from Charlie Athanasia assisted by Danny Ugolini. Danny Pelicciotti did a good job in net.

Wilmington swimmers awarded medals by YMCA

Laurel Harding of Chapman Ave., and Patty Conant of Arlene Ave., Wilmington swam to medal-winning performances in the recent Eastern Mass. YMCA Girls' Swimming Championships.

Wearing the Kelly green and gold of the Wakefield YMCA Swim Team, both girls participated in the freestyle stroke events for their respective age groups against 28 YMCA swim teams from the eastern portion of the Commonwealth.

Patty, 10, swam the third leg of the fourth place nine and 10 year old 200 yard freestyle relay, while turning in best personal efforts in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events.

Laurel, 12, swam the third leg of the sixth place 11 and 12 year old 200 freestyle relay and contributed finest individual efforts in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle contests.

In a cruel twist of fate, another Wilmington resident never got to compete. Mary McNaughton, 10, currently ranks third in New England in the 100 yard freestyle event. She developed chicken pox the morning of the meet and spent the day in bed.

Beth Conant, 13, captain of the Wakefield girls' team also competed in the 200 yard individual medley; 100 yard butterfly and 200 yard freestyle relay for 13 and 14 year olds and qualifies for the New England Championship meet.

Midget A's tie Tewksbury 7-7

The Wilmington Midget A's met rival Tewksbury Sunday night, March 14, in a game which turned out to be the most action-packed so far this season.

Fifty seconds into the game, Tewksbury opened the scoring. One minute seven seconds later, Wilmington tied the score when Joe Steen, in heavy traffic, tipped home a Steve Pellerin pass. At the 7:45 mark, Tewksbury took the lead, and two minutes later notched another goal. Wilmington fought back with a fine rush by Jim Lux and John Fahey, which rewarded Joe LaLiberte with a goal, bringing the score to 3-2.

Tewksbury scored again on a breakaway. Wilmington's netminder, Scott O'Connell, made a fine initial save, but the rebound was picked up and snapped in. With only 59 seconds remaining in the period, aggressive play by Wilmington paid off. Steve Pellerin, assisted by Dick Gunn, drilled one past the Tewksbury goalie to end the high-scoring first period Tewksbury four, Wilmington three.

The game settled down in the second period. Good defensive play and backchecking held the score at four to three until 7:39 when back-to-back goals by Tewksbury upped the score to 6-3. With one minute 55 seconds left in the second period, Wilmington's Chuck Edgerly picked up an errant pass and fired it home to close the gap and end the period Tewksbury six, Wilmington four.

In fast and furious third period action, Wilmington's hopes dwindled when at 7:02 Tewksbury scored their seventh and final goal of the game. The best was yet to come. With two minutes and 46 seconds left in the game, Joe LaLiberte scored an unassisted goal which paved the way for the best two and one half minutes of hockey the fans have seen. Tenacious corner work by Wilmington's Steve Pellerin and Dick Gunn got the puck out to Jim Phillips, and with only 39 seconds remaining, he slammed it home and closed the gap to one.

On the face-off, Wilmington gained control and shot the puck to the Tewksbury end. At this point, Wilmington pulled their goaltender in favor of a sixth skater. In an all-out effort, Wilmington swarmed the net. A clearing pass by Tewksbury was picked off by John Fahey, and with only four seconds remaining in the game, he blasted it home to tie the score!! Wilmington made one more last ditch effort at the buzzer, but the shot went wide and the game ended in a 7-7 tie.

This was a team effort game. Ken Aalerud, Bob Mauriello, Bob Frites and Don McLaughlin - although not credited with assists or goals contributed to the game by playing good, solid hockey.

Volunteer reading tutors needed

The volunteer reading tutors were organized in April 1973 under the direction of the Wilmington Reading Department in cooperation with the National "Right to Read" program.

Each volunteer receives a 24 hour training program. The tutors learn how to plan lessons and to motivate children to want to learn.

They also learn how to teach specific reading skills such as phonics, comprehension, structural analysis and expression.

The volunteers working in the schools this week include: Eleanor Buckley, Irene Beaton, Antonie Cunningham, Sylvia Blum, Donna Lydon, Francis Zaccagnini, Barbara Gunn, Norma Medeiros, Ruth Filipowicz, Nancy Hale and Barbara Zaverson.

A new training program will soon be underway. Volunteers are needed in order to supply more schools with this type of assistance. Babysitting service will be available at no cost during the 24 hour training program.

Anyone interested may call Irene Beaton, program coordinator at 658-2677 or the reading department at 658-4580 for further details.

Your efforts for this program will be welcomed and appreciated.

There will be a meeting on Wednesday, March 17, at 10 o'clock at the Curriculum Center on Middlesex Ave., in Wilmington for those who would like to learn more about the program and wish to become tutors.

"All Out for Scouting" program kickoff

Boy Scouts of America, Greater Lowell Council, has kicked off its "All Out for Scouting" program, with a dinner at the Billerica Elks Hall, on March 8.

The program is an all-out effort toward providing better Scouting for more boys, through better unit programming, and under well trained Scoutmasters and boy leaders. It is to be a series of seven interlocking operations performed over a period of 18 months. The program is headed by Harold Dow, of Shawsheen Street, Tewksbury, the Lowell Council Training Chairman.

Present from the Wamesit District, Wilmington were: Frank Tuttle and Russey Gorey, Troop 56; Lawrence Flaherty, Troop 59; Walter Dalton and John Arvanitis, Troop 59; John Virtus, William Caperci and Conrad Gerhartz, Troop 63 and Paul Shea and Thomas MacFeeley, Troop 136.

High School Students hear of World of Work

"Sweetheart Plastics is many things to different people. It is a place to work. It is a supplier to customers. It is a taxpayer in the community. It is the leader in the plastic disposable industry. Sweetheart makes all kinds of disposable food containers."

Mary Gianino, Personnel Assistant at Sweetheart Plastics opened a discussion and slide presentation to High School students on March 10 with the above words. Sweetheart has plants in Massachusetts, Georgia and New Hampshire. In Wilmington there are 1100 employees; three full time and two part time shifts and a variety of available jobs. Packers

Richard Grinder of Middlesex Ave., Wilmington, the All-Over chairman, reports that the plan of action for more effective accomplishment of all the training and programming features is one to which the councils, districts, troops and patrols are already committed.

The purpose is to provide inspiration and training to all persons in all leadership positions in the council - adults and boys, from the Council President to the youngest Assistant Patrol Leader.

The ultimate purpose is to make it possible for all Scouts within the Council to have top-grade Scouting experience, that it may prove to be the "best show in town" to attract participation and attention of the boys.

The program incorporates all of the features of the improved Scout program, and of the updated training program.

Minutemen Drum Head Election

The Wilmington Company of Minutemen, in full regalia, mustered at their headquarters behind the Harnden Tavern, Sunday afternoon for their election and installation of officers.

One of the key points, during the days just before the Revolution, was the passage of an act by the Colonial Legislature that the local companies of Militia elect their officers, instead of having those officers appointed by His Majesty's Lieutenant Governor. This act was of primary importance in depriving the King of his command over the Massachusetts Militia.

Thus when the Minutemen companies were formed, in the winter of 1774, their officers were men who had no particular loyalty to the King.

Phil Colberth, of Church Street, who was elected the new Captain has no allegiance to the King, but he sports a British Jack, on his car! Colberth was elected, and he was installed in office by one of Wilmington's selectmen, James F. Banda.
